

How to build a wicking bed for your balcony.

WHERE: Jubilee Kitchen Garden is located beside the Mens Shed and Archies Studios, under the Light Rail track at Jubilee Park Oval.

WHEN: Sunday July 8, 2018
1pm to 4pm.
Workshop starts at 1:30pm

WHAT: Learn how to build a water-smart wicking bed at your local Community Garden. Wicking beds are a wicked way to be water-smart. Easy to build, they are effectively a self-watering system to grow veggies and herbs and flowers. In a three hours workshop, we will explain how the wicking bed system works using our 5 garden beds as an example. We will also show you how to build a simple wicking bed for your balcony and start growing straight away!

The workshop is free but you need to book your place. Reserve your place online at www.trybooking.com/WINS

Jubilee Kitchen Garden

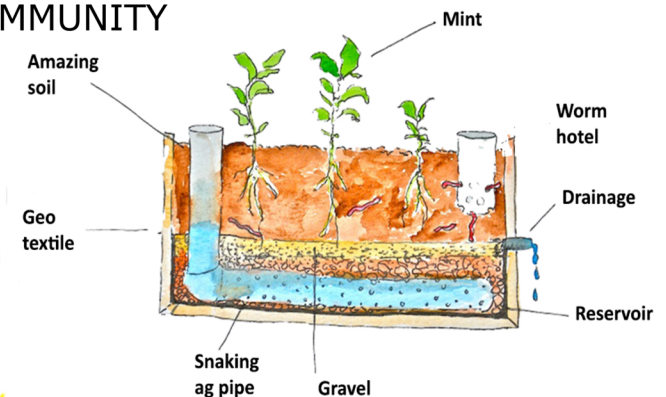

WHO?

Jubilee Kitchen Garden was set up by the collaborative efforts of some members of the Pyrmont, Ultimo and Glebe Men's Shed, some artists from the Big Fag Press, some volunteers from the Rozelle Native Community Nursery and a host of other un-affiliated locals.

We are people who work, live or use Jubilee Park regularly, and after several sporadic conversations it was felt that it would be good to grow some food, herbs and generally hang around a garden in order to share knowledge, stories, and bring some fresh produce into our and everyone else's life. The idea is simple: we like gardening and we are willing to share produce.

THIS WORKSHOP HAS BEEN GENEROUSLY SUPPORTED BY THE CITY OF SYDNEY VIA A HEART FOUNDATION GRANT- BRINGING HEALTHY SKILLS IN THE COMMUNITY
